

Brecksville-Broadview Heights City School District

Records Day Friday, March 25th, Spring Break Begins Monday Exciting Food Services Updates Below

March 24th, 2022

Dear Brecksville-Broadview Heights City Schools Community,

Tomorrow, Friday, March 25th, is a Records Day in the district with no school for students. Spring Break officially begins on Monday, March 28th and runs through Friday, April 1st. School will resume on Monday, April 4th for students and staff. Congratulations to everyone in our school family for patiently and successfully arriving at this point in the school year, particularly during this post-pandemic environment. On behalf of everyone in the BBHCSD, have a safe, enjoyable, and relaxing Spring Break.

A few points of excitement and interest are listed below, as we approach this time away from school.

BBHCSD to Launch My School Menus as Interactive Nutrition Resource

The BBHCSD is excited to launch My School Menus, a dynamic and interactive nutrition resource for students and families. This new menu platform will be available for use beginning April 1, 2022, for the remainder of the current school year. My School Menus allows access to nutrition information for the daily menu items, the capability to Build-A-Meal and create customized meals, identifies allergens within menu items, and much more! By providing this new nutrition resource, the BBHCSD Food Services Department seeks to provide students and families an accessible and dynamic way to make healthy and informed food choices. My School Menus can be accessed by downloading the mobile app or visiting My School Menus online. For step-by-step directions on how to download the mobile app or access online, please view the My School Menus Quick Start Guide, or visit the Food Services Department Home Page. Families can also watch a My School Menus video tutorial.

In other exciting Food Services news, the High School will be re-opening The Hive for students to grab a wholesome and healthy snack upon returning from Spring Break. Our students at the High School will be happy to learn that some favorite food opportunities will become available once again in The Hive. Get ready for this re-opening, after Spring Break!

Keep in mind that menus are available to review for all students at all grade levels and buildings online, and the district looks forward to providing fresh, nutritious, and wholesome food options for students and staff. More Food Services information can be found on their page as well, on the district website.

Calendar of Upcoming Events for BBHES Posted

So that the community can remain informed of anticipated upcoming events at the Brecksville-Broadview Heights Elementary School, an updated Calendar of Events has been posted on its web page. A variety of events are currently being planned as we approach the conclusion of construction and preparation for the 2022-'23 school year for students and families who will attend this facility, and even for the community. We'll celebrate the close of our beloved current elementary buildings, and collectively build excitement for the future of PreK through Grade 5 education over the next several months. Stay tuned for more details, specific times, and information for tours and activities.

Once again, please take some time to relax, recharge, and enjoy your Spring Break. Thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,

Joelle M. Magyar
Superintendent of Schools
